

QUALITY POLICY

BIONET is a specialist for the engineering of industrial bio processes intended for the production of raw materials and consumer products, but also for the recycling of organic sub-products. We provide equipment and turn key projects as well as engineering services.

In order to meet the requirements of our clients, assure the development and well-being of our personnel and encourage continuous progress and evolution of our products and services, BIONET has opted for the implementation of a Quality Management System according to UNE EN ISO 9001:2008 requirements.

To meet the quality standards of the products and services offered by BIONET and to minimize environmental impacts, we are committed to:

- Assure our clients to be satisfied by defining and documenting detailed procedures regarding tasks to be performed by our employees / subcontractors, establishing quality / excellence indicating parameters and guaranteeing efficiency and productivity.
- Implement a continuous training program for our employees providing all necessary resources and encourage personal implication and satisfaction related to the particular working activities of each employee.
- Assure that the technical installations / utilities meet all legal requirements, comply with any applicable norms and fulfill any voluntarily take commitment.
- Be encouraged and generous, defending honestly any proposal we consider more convenient, independent from adverse opinions and circumstances, and, propose suitable solutions to our clients, although their implementation was not contributing directly to the benefit of BIONET.
- Contribute this policy to all our employees and assure that it is understood.

The principal strategies laid down in this policy have been converted into objectives which are redefined and revised periodically by senior management, including the definition and implementation of actions contributing to the improvement of the established processes.

The management system implemented at BIONET assures the fulfillment of this policy which will be reviewed on a regular base and whenever revision might be required due to the given circumstances.
